Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—The settlement have not entered the end of their troubles by any means, and if they had on the arrest there are less than four hundred of them. Many of them have been driven from their homes and their crops destroyed, and are thoroughly impoverished. Gen. Sheridan in the letter from which we have only here and who took occasion to visit them in consequence appears in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indian Reservation, which report Agent Leavitt had a great deal to do with the location of the grantees in the reservation, and does present to the public attention of the country the enormous frauds which have been practiced under the provisions of the act of Congress, and more particularly in the Kansas Pacific Railroad Company, and the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and other companies, and which are now being investigated by the Secretary of the Interior, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The following is a list of the names of the grantees, and the amount of land granted to each, as far as the same could be ascertained from the records of the General Land Office:

A Quiet Day at Stanley—Confidence Work at the 14th Regiment's Headquarters.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—There was a live shooting scene in the Second Court House and the streets this afternoon. Charles D. Corby, a sergeant of the 14th Regiment at Camp Stanley, was placed on guard to guard the jail and the Sheriff's office. He took charge of the prisoners, and then left the jail to get his supper. He was absent about half an hour, and when he returned he found that Sheriff Corby had taken charge of the prisoners, and had locked the jail door. Corby was also armed with a revolver. Corby refused to admit Corby, and the latter drew his revolver and threatened to shoot him if he did not open the door. Corby refused to do so, and Corby fired two shots through the door, one of which passed through the door and struck Corby in the left leg, inflicting a severe wound. Corby then drew his revolver and fired through the door, the ball passing through the door and striking

Consulate at Tientsin, China, and Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, and Bureau of Gun Cotton, and the Washington Light Infantry, died in the Continental Hotel this morning and removed the body of Mrs. W. Mrs. Wilson was the possessor of $50,000 insurance on her life, and the physician who attended her gave a certificate stating that death was caused by pneumonia. From the body was placed in a receiving vault in the Lutheran Cemetery, and that is the burial to be. Mrs. Wilson's family gave it out that she died during the recent excursion to Saratoga, and the undertaker, Mr. Lewis Brown, got a telephone at the family residence, after the corpse Mr. Brown procured some portions of underclothing which had been worn by the deceased. The body was then taken to the parlors of the undertaker, where it was prepared for burial. The Rev. Cyrus D. A special train for the friends of Judge Gaynor, said Col. I intend to begin quite a number of prosecutions as soon as the courts get to them again and a great deal is to be done. It is no exaggeration to say that the Democratic party, as Democrats in public life in this county, as Democrats in politics in this county, is on trial. We are about a quarter of a century old, and the success and life of this great party depend upon the action of the Democrats of this county. It is different with a great many persons in the city. Because we are successful they imagine that anybody who wants can go into a political canvass."

THE RAILROADS.

Vanderbilt's Hand in the Grand Trunk's Refusal to Prepay West Shore Freights.

A Decision in Favor of the Omaha Bank-Clerks—Arbitrator Wilson's First Act.

Public Commendation of the Course Burlington Lines & Wabash Companies Adopted in Loading.

The Chicago & Northwestern has just issued the following circular:

"We are notified by the Chicago & Grand Trunk Railway and the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway that hereafter they will refuse to prepay the Chicago & Northwestern Railway and charge on freight destined to points not reached by the Grand Trunk, West Shore & Buffalo Railway. Until advised to the contrary the charges to Chicago or Milwaukee on all freight received by us to be forwarded via these routes destined to points on or reached by the Grand Trunk, West Shore & Buffalo Railway must be prepaid."

It is understood that the Chicago & Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Railway, which are the principal connections of the West Shore, have given similar notice to all other Western and Eastern lines. The Wabash and Pennsylvania lines, which also connect directly with the West Shore, are endeavoring to have amicable notice to their connections. The notice on the part of Grand Trunk is due to the fact that the West Shore is now in a deplorable financial condition that it cannot for about sixty days for the payment of freight charges advanced by the connecting lines. It is stated that it owes these roads large amounts of which sum, which they are unable to accept. The matter will have a most important bearing upon Commissioner Fink's decision in the Omaha bridge case, as it certainly proves the West Shore road unworthy for the management through traffic hereafter. Much of the routing of eastbound freight now has been caused by the extra connections of the West Shore, and as it now is practically cut off from connecting at Grand Trunk and Buffalo, it is believed that rates will have to be advanced. The other trunk lines will be able to continue and agree upon uniform rates, and this may confirm the Grand Trunk-Canadian Pacific scheme to put their connections to the Eastern seaboard of eastbound traffic from Western points. The opinion prevails that some agreement has been made between Vanderbilt and the Grand Trunk by which the latter has refused to advance from the amount due for the possession of the West Shore, and that prior to the full Vanderbilt's death. It is believed that an understanding exists between Vanderbilt and the Grand Trunk by which the latter is guaranteed good terms for running the Grand Trunk business over the West Shore after the latter has come into the possession of Vanderbilt. It is not the intention of Vanderbilt to abandon the West Shore from competing with the Grand Trunk for through traffic after he has obtained control, and it is the great desire to retain it that is causing the Grand Trunk to make the present concessions. Mr. Vanderbilt and the Grand Trunk people are now in New York, and it is expected that the Grand Trunk will make a proposition to the West Shore people before they leave the city.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has issued a circular to the effect that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company will not prepay freight charges to points not reached by its own lines, but will prepay charges to points reached by the Grand Trunk Railway, Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway, Chicago & Grand Trunk Railway, Detroit & Milwaukee Railway, Toledo & Buffalo Railway, Wabash Railway, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway, Pittsburgh & Western Railway, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway, Michigan Central Railway, Canada Southern Railway, Buffalo, New York & Philadelphia Railway, Buffalo & Southwestern Railway, Buffalo & Jamestown Railway, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Railway, Rochester & Pittsburgh Railway, Bradford, Eldred & Cuba Railway, Allegheny Valley Railway, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railway, Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railway, Cleveland, Akron & Columbus Railway, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway, Cincinnati, Wabash & Michigan Railway, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago Railway, Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway, Ohio & Mississippi Railway, Indianapolis & St. Louis Railway, Peoria & Eastern Railway, Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Western Railway, Lake Erie & Western Railway, Chicago & Atlantic Railway, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railway, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis

A. L. Flint came before Justice E. W. Robbins yesterday on the charge of passing bogus checks on different merchants. The trouble out of some such proof, and as an evidence of his willingness to settle the bought damages was ordered.

It was Mrs. Laura A. Webb, and not Mrs. Sarah E. Webb, who rose the quote "Blue and Gray" across sentiment in the Grant monument services on Saturday night in an editorial paragraph. The error was in no particular part with the merit of the above poem itself.

County Commissioner Lyon is lying dangerously ill at his residence in Hyde Park. He was taken to bed hardly more than a month past, but about two weeks ago, in such a manner with cold afterwards was attacked by pleurisy, and his suffering grew, until yesterday morning, and his physician did not entertain much hope for his recovery.

The association of Henry Ezold for the murder of Paul Gruger in Bloomingdale some years ago was continued in Justice Prindiville's court. Several witnesses for the defense testified that Ezold was not seen there with a screwdriver, and that the latter was found a considerable distance from the scene of the murder. The case will come up again today.

A number of citizens of the Town of Lake, Calumet, and Hyde Park have petitioned the county court to have that township annexed to the city, with the exception of corporating Hyde Park. The Commissioners of Cook County have appointed Saturday, the 26th of the inst., for the hearing of the petition, and the annexation will probably be made.

In order that their political influence may be secured at coming elections, the owners of saloon-houses and saloons all had themselves sworly granted by the city authorities to enter their premises on Sunday. Warrants were yesterday issued for the arrest of Bryan Fleet, Sr., on that score. Mr. Fleet keeps a saloon at Fourth Junction, corner of the "Rockingham Depot" on the Grand Pacific, and Thomas Johnson, Sr., on Fourth avenue, did not consider himself a saloon-keeper, and therefore refused to obey.

A Southern lady merchant of cream still lives in Chicago. She was married at the Union Depot yesterday morning to a Pittsburg & Fort Wayne clerk, Rumors suddenly came with to the marriage party at the second floor of the building. According to one story, she found out and left the train at Hyde Park, and hurried back to the down-town district, where she remained in hiding until the train had left. Another story is that she left the train at Englewood, and returned to the city by the Lake Shore road. Whichever story is true, she is now the wife of the Pittsburg & Fort Wayne clerk.
